Programme

08.30 - 09.00  Registration with coffee and croissants

09.00 - 09.10  Introduction by Maja Horst, Professor, Head of Department, Department of Media, Cognition and Communication, University of Copenhagen

09.10 - 09.20  Welcome by the Minister of Higher Education and Science Sofie Carsten Nielsen

09.20 - 09.25  Q&A

09.25 - 09.50  What is the social responsibility of science? Keynote by Richard Owen, Professor of Strategic Innovation Management and Chair in Responsible Innovation, University of Exeter Business School, UK

09.50 - 10.00  Q&A

10.00 - 11.00 Panel 1. What is the point of citizen involvement in private and public research? Panel with Senior Vice President Global Development Kim Domela Kjøller, LEO Pharma A/S, Director Lars Klüver, The Danish Board of Technology, Alan Irwin, Professor of Science & Technology Studies, Copenhagen Business School and one representative from the media

11.00 - 11.20  Short break

11.20 - 11.40  Introduction to panel 2. Interview with Arie Rip, Professor Emeritus, University of Twente, the Netherlands

11.40 - 12.40  Panel 2. How are ideas of responsibility implemented in everyday research practice? Panel with Birger Lindberg Møller, Professor, Center for Synthetic Biology, University of Copenhagen, Arie Rip, Professor Emeritus, Susan Stripp, Professor, Group Leader, NanoGeoScience, University of Copenhagen, Sarah R Davies, Marie Curie Research Fellow, Department of Media, Cognition and Communication, University of Copenhagen and representatives from industry, Danish research councils and research institutions

12.40 - 13.00  Wrap-up by Professor Maja Horst

13.00 - 14.00  Lunch

14.00 -  End of conference

The conference will be moderated by Mette Walsted Vestergaard, Journalist, the Danish Broadcasting Corporation (DR).